Getting your consent

- a. The collection by LOGISTEC of an individual's Personal Information, such as individual's name, personal address, e-mail, CV and any other information the individual can provide to LOGISTEC when contacting LOGISTEC by email or by phone, for a specific purpose is subject to, as the case may be, its prior implied or express consent. The consent must be expressed in case of use of sensitive information or for purposes that would exceed your reasonable expectations. Sometimes, we may infer your consent from your behaviour. For example, if you choose to provide us with your personal information after having read this Policy, we will assume that you agree that we can use and disclose it in the manner described in this Policy. In that case, the consent will be implied.
- b. LOGISTEC asks for an individual's additional consent each time it wishes to use the Personal Information collected, for a new purpose.
- c. An individual that has given its consent to the collection of Personal Information can withdraw such consent at any time.
- d. Unless the individual consents otherwise and subject to the exceptions provided by the Privacy Laws, LOGISTEC only uses and discloses Personal Information for the purposes for which it was collected and consented to, or for a use consistent with that purpose.
- e. The use and disclosure by LOGISTEC of an individual's Personal Information for a purpose that is different from the one originally consented to are subject to such individual's prior consent. The consent must be expressed in particular in case of use of sensitive information.

Purposes of Collection, Use and Disclosure of Personal Information

- a. LOGISTEC only collects Personal Information from individuals as required to carry out its activities, recruit employees and to meet its legal obligations. For example: in the hiring process, the payroll management, performance management processes, succession planning, for tax returns, for contact during parental, maternity or disability leave or for use of data for government reports.
- b. LOGISTEC can also collect usage information, such as IP address, Information about your browser, visit duration, and viewed pages to follow a user's browsing through the various sections of a website.

- c. Personal Information may be collected through an individual's disclosure or through a third party. To the extent reasonably possible, Personal Information is directly collected from the individual to whom the information relates unless such individual authorizes LOGISTEC to collect the Personal Information from a third party.

Retention and Disposal of Personal Information

Subject to applicable laws relating to retention obligations and LOGISTEC's internal policies, Personal Information that has been collected by LOGISTEC is destroyed, erased or made anonymous once it is no longer required for the purpose it was collected, or earlier if so requested by the individual to whom the information relates.

Accuracy of Personal Information

Once collected, LOGISTEC maintains the Personal Information relating to an individual as accurate, up-to-date and complete as reasonably possible.

Use and Disclosure of Personal Information

- a. LOGISTEC may further disclose Personal Information collected to Third Party Service Providers consistent with the same purpose it was collected for.
